

Francisco Luna

Fullstack Developer

👤 Profile

I'm a software developer adept in full-stack development in love with React, Typescript and UX/UI design. I have been working professionally in the tech industry since September 2023, holding my first frontend engineering position and contributing to the design, testing and integration of different web applications.

Featured own Projects:

Hobby Explore - Social Media Platform with over 10 active users every day, and counting. Developed with Next.js, Supabase and Figma.

Inversiones San Antonio – Recent project developed for a client.

Vision Gest Website – Project developed for an AI product built at college.
